MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Hello and best wishes from us to you – we hope the year has been kind to you. Our year has been fairly routine... we are all fine. We enjoy a weekend away at Bald Rock every month or so, and have just returned from a pre-Christmas week at Bargara to catch up with Elizabeth’s family. Our gossip goes as follows:

Peter finished painting the inside of the Bald Rock Shed and put down some flooring. A couple of Peter’s uncles also helped with some shelving and constructing a granite retaining wall around the shed. He reckons that it’s pretty well finished at last, leaving him free to catch up on the jobs at Mount Crosby. He is still writing software from home through Meier IT.

Elizabeth got a sit-on-top kayak and took it out on flat water a few times at Wivenhoe Dam, Colleges Crossing at Mt Crosby and the Bald Rock dam. She likes to paddle the boys around and hopes they’ll catch the bug. She also keeps on with some science/writing contracting work from home.

Felix made some new friends and enjoyed grade 3. During lunch time he played in ‘Club Chicken’, which was invented by his group of friends. At home he is having a go at writing his own website (no longer exists). He also won a prize for computer skills. Apart from computer time, Felix enjoys trampoline time, going in the pool and reading.

At the beginning of the year, Myles was worried about going to school because he couldn’t read but now he has it sorted. Myles enjoyed his year in prep but still says the best thing about school is lunch time for play time. Myles enjoys playing with other kids, Lego, going to the pool, drawing and playing DS.

Christmas Bracken 2013

Felix Meier and Myles Meier
(bracken fronds with glitter on cardboard)

Fronds for the Christmas Bracken card series were collected by Myles Meier at Bald Rock in September 2013. The fronds were allowed to dry while being pressed. Felix Meier and Myles Meier applied glue and glitter to the dried fronds before placing them on the cards.
